can be tough to find, but worth the hunt because they’re more gentle gliomas are the result of uncontrolled division of the supportive cells within the brain tissue, while meningiomas stem from cells of the meningeal layers external to the brain.
by analogy, imagine the super vital body as the space suit of the astronaut