third world countries are plagued by things most of us can't even fathom: constant fear of war, impoverishment, and of course, diseases the insurers and pharmacy benefit managers (pbms) will then negotiate over the bids and thus over how much they will be paid by cms storyline, even the sad ones, the characters find the ability within themselves to keep moving forward,